vita-life® V-System Wellness for body and mind, soul and senses

People have known for a long time that body and mind, soul and senses, are one. So a true definition of wellness must include all these dimensions of the individual. Only when they are all in harmony with each other do we truly feel good in our skin.

More and more people are adopting this holistic approach to wellness. The vita-life® V-System is an innovative product that creates a completely new kind of experience.

Soothing sounds, vibrant colour spectra, calming vibrations and an invigorating magnetic field combine to create a deeply relaxing and yet revitalising effect that you can really feel after just a few seconds on the vita-life® V-System.

The vita-life® V-System combines decades of experience in wellness and healthcare, ancient wisdom from natural medicine and the latest technology to create a unique and beneficial experience for all the senses.

Bringing order to body and soul

The core of every vita-life® V-System is magnetic resonance stimulation. A magnetic field is generated in the couch to both relax and stimulate the body, stimulate the circulation and promote long-term health.

Magnetic resonance stimulation is the foundation for the other elements of the vita-life® V-System to deliver their own healing and relaxing effects.

It makes the vita-life® V-System much more than just a wellness application: it's a complete system designed to promote long-term health.

Soothing the body

Gentle vibrations in the couch set the rhythm for the whole body, encouraging relaxation, calm and well-being. The vibrations are emitted at barely audible yet detectable frequencies that are optimally adapted to the human body by specially developed sound technology. The vibrations from the vita-life® V-System have the same effect as a good massage, soothing and relaxing the body from second to second.

vita-life® V-System Well-being in four dimensions

The vita-life® V-System is a completely new experience for body, mind, soul and senses. Four highly effective elements combine to produce immediately perceptible effects: wellness in four dimensions, well-being for all the senses.

Relaxing the mind

The beneficial effects of colour and light on body and mind have been known for a long time. The vita-life® V-System generates a complex, slowly changing landscape of coloured light. Choose from different programmes depending on your needs, then lie back and enjoy the visual treat of the different visual effects unfolding before your eyes. The different colour spectra have different effects on the body and mind, helping to create a sense of holistic well-being.

Stimulating the senses

Music composed specially for the vita-life® V-System, designed to deliver the maximum psychoacoustic effect, creates a sound world that can be stimulating or soothing depending on your needs. The user can choose from a wide range of musical styles, all optimised to provide the maximum benefit. Five high-quality loudspeakers and actuators ensure an unequalled sound experience. An intense interplay of coloured light and sound immerses all the senses in a world of well-being.
