

CELL REJUVENATION SYSTEM™

Achieving Wellness through Unity and Synergy between Body, Mind and Spirit

Cell Rejuvenation System
Live Younger and Longer

Health and Wellness

Wellness has been described as a state of optimal well-being oriented toward maximizing an individual's potential for a better quality of health. Now you can take a proactive approach to personal health and well-being while adding quality and longevity to your life. The Cell Rejuvenation System is specifically designed to give you a holistic approach to preventive health care and wellness.

Magnetic Resonance Stimulation

Imagine a fountain of youth available to you at anytime you desire. The Cell Rejuvenation System is based on an innovative combination of knowledge of natural healing and advanced technology that will help your body activate its powers of self restoration and rejuvenation.

Magnetic fields are all around us and within us. Magnetism is one of the forces of nature without which no plant, no animal and certainly no human being would be able to live.

The Cell Rejuvenation System utilizes this naturally occurring phenomenon of magnetism to relax your body and mind, to increase vitality and maintain good health. We work closely with researchers and doctors all over the world who perform studies and advancements with our products. The system is recommended for preventive health care. It promotes relaxation and is proven to increase recovery time of clients' mind and body.

Cell Rejuvenation System

Connection of magnetic resonance stimulation and bio-feedback

Vegetative and motor functions are documented during the client's treatment using the finger biofeedback sensor and evaluated in the Cell Rejuvenation System's control unit. This allows the treatment parameters to be continuously adapted in "real time".

Cell Rejuvenation System

The route to good health comes from within

In magnetic resonance stimulation, such as is used in the vita-life Cell Rejuvenation System, the body is stimulated with a magnetic field with specific frequency bundles, similar to the frequency bundles of the natural magnetic field of the earth. This results in activation of the fundamental metabolic functions of every cell in the body. Over 120,000 units are used worldwide by over 280,000 individuals.

Clients experience positive results:

- o Naturally stimulates the body's metabolism
- o Direct-to-cell delivery system
- o Increased cell absorption and utilization
- o Naturally reduces the effects of aging
- o Clients experience a rejuvenating effect
- o Feel energized and revitalized
- o Gain more benefit from treatments
- o Enjoy long term effects

equifield® applicators

Unlike conventional magnetic field mats used in magnetic resonance stimulation whose designs produce little beneficial effect, the Cell Rejuvenation System's equifield® applicators provide an even magnetic field for balanced treatment. The equifield® applicators have only one coil that is wound in a spiral configuration. The distance between neighboring wires in different sections of the medium differs, thereby ensuring an even (homogenous) magnet field across the mat applicator's entire surface.

Probe applicator with targeted effect

Conventional probe applicators used in magnetic resonance stimulation expose operators of the device to the same magnetic field as the patient. The Cell Rejuvenation System resolved this problem with a new probe applicator by ensuring that the core has a section that stretches radially behind the coil and a connecting section of the core that surrounds it. This ensures that the magnetic field is concentrated in the area requiring treatment.

Chip card

The Cell Rejuvenation System comes with a choice of a wellness or fitness chip card intended for home use and simple application by independent doctors.

Light therapy glasses

The casing of the color glasses used with the Cell Rejuvenation System contains three differently colored light sources whose light intensity can be controlled separately, and a luminescent screen made of light-permeable and light-diffusing material. The intensity and color of the light can be varied in a specified rhythm. These types of light therapy and color therapy can be combined very effectively with magnetic resonance stimulation, electrostimulation therapy or sound therapy and are generally used to relax the client and promote his or her well being.

Technology, production and quality assurance

The Cell Rejuvenation System is manufactured in European production facilities in Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein and Austria. This ensures a consistent and high level of product quality that our customers can rely on. To provide quality assurance and control, state-of-the-art technology is used: the testing of a system of this complexity is not possible using conventional means.

A comprehensive quality management system shortens our customers' pathways to development and production. This means that customer wishes can be fed directly into this system and improvements effected without delay.

Health and technology working together

The Cell Rejuvenation System combines years of experience in wellness and health care, ancient wisdom from natural medicine and the latest technology to create a unique and beneficial experience. Contact us for more information.
